

PEACE SEEMS UNCERTAIN TODAY

Premier Asquith is Optimistic But Turks Seem Bent on Exacting Conditions

BULGARIA WILL INSIST ON HAVING ADRIANOPLE

Austro-Servian Dispute Said to be Settled, Servia Taking Dalmatian Port

LONDON, Dec. 20.—The King this afternoon received the Turkish-Balkan peace envoys, who were presented by Sir Edward Grey.

There was no session of the delegates today, but the envoys consulted informally at their respective hotels. A courier is due tomorrow from Constantinople with fresh instructions for the Turkish envoys. The conference will be resumed tomorrow.

A flat prediction that the London peace conference will result in a settlement of the Balkan war was made by Premier Asquith today, speaking at the lord mayor's luncheon to the peace envoys before the latter were presented to the King.

"I am optimistic," Asquith declared. "I believe the negotiations will be successful, and that the outcome will warrant posterity in regarding the treaty of London as one of London's proudest laurels."

The reports that the Garibaldian legion had lost all its officers and four hundred men near Janina has been confirmed. The legion is fighting for the Greeks, under Ricciotti Garibaldi, the son of the Italian patriot. It was composed of soldiers of fortune.

Constantinople dispatches today indicate that Turkey will insist that the Greeks cease fighting during the progress of negotiations. This is believed to be contained in the new instructions to the envoys now en route. It is also expected the instructions will insist upon permission to revictual Adrianople.

Dispatches from Sofia predict that Bulgaria will not sanction any terms not giving her Adrianople as the spoils of war. Despite Premier Asquith's optimistic utterances at the lord mayor's luncheon, many diplomats believe that peace is further away than is generally believed. It is authoritatively stated here that the Austro-Servian dispute has been settled, with Servia to get San Giovanni Di Medua on the Dalmatian coast, abandoning her claim to the port of Durazzo.

SPORTS COMBINE GETS CONCESSION FROM OLD MEXICO

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 20.—The report was apparently confirmed today that the Mexican Government has granted a concession in Lower California to a syndicate composed partly of Americans to permit of horse racing 120 days of each year, also bull fights, prize fights, cock fights, and all forms of sports.

Gold Bricks

There came to our town a promoter, who had a most elegant scheme; if he just had the money to tote 'em he could make us as rich as a dream. Way out in a gulch on the mountain he had staked out a wonderful claim where nuggets of gold, like a fountain, gushed forth in a glorious flame. All he needed to set it a-grinding was to trade off some stock for cold cash; then the money would come in a-winding, and we'd all wade in boodle kerplash. We knew that the guy wasn't kiddin', and his get-rich-quick scheme was no bluff; for he proved by the map where 'twas hidden, and showed us a sample of stuff. Every rube in the village got busy and shelled out for shares of the stock; and we soared into heights that were dizzy, counting wealth at each tick of the clock; but away went the millionaire maker, to our village he never came back; he dropped out of sight, the old faker, and left us a-holding the sack. Oh why will men patronize strangers who with gold bricks and schemes let them down, yet always see snares, woes and dangers, when asked to help build up the town?—Riverside Enterprise.

ULTIMATUM FOR WOMEN PROPOSE LEGISLATIVE MEASURES

Taft Demands Cessation of Depredations Against Americans Outline Both Constructive and Remedial Laws Before Solons

AMBASSADOR WILSON IS TO PRESENT ULTIMATUM

Mexican Question Will go to Congress if Demands Are Not Respected

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—No ultimatum has yet been presented to Mexico by President Taft but a curt, severe note demanding greater protection of American life and property is being prepared this afternoon, according to Secretary of State Knox. He refused to state whether or not the note constitutes a virtual ultimatum, but it is generally believed that it does.

Congressmen suspect the news that "President Taft has served an ultimatum on Madero" outlining what will happen unless Americans shall be given more protection, was purposely permitted to "leak" out here so that Madero will take the hint and act.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Before leaving Washington last night for Key West, President Taft had a long conference with Secretary of State Knox and Henry Lane Wilson, Ambassador to Mexico. When Mr. Wilson returns to Mexico he will carry with him a message from President Taft to President Madero with the peremptory admonition that depredations against American property and violence to Americans, whether by rebels or by federales, must cease and that immediately.

It is understood that President Taft has taken steps to acquaint President-elect Wilson with the situation in order that plans may be shaped to harmonize with the views of the incoming President. According to the present plan, if by the time President Taft returns from Panama, Madero has not given a satisfactory response to his message, the case of Mexico will be placed before Congress with the request that the President be authorized to enforce the demands of the United States.

The attitude of Madero has been such that the President for a time considered taking immediate action without sending further diplomatic exchanges to the Mexican government. It was finally concluded to give Madero one more opportunity. The immediate occasion for the ultimatum is Madero's reply to Taft's demand for punishment for murderers of Americans in Mexico, and for indemnity for loss of American life and property. The Mexican reply stated that the Americans killed in Mexico deserved their fate and that their treatment was no worse than that accorded Mexicans in the United States.

The demand for indemnity for the American lives and property destroyed in Mexico is ignored. Madero admits he can neither restore order nor protect Americans.

With allowances for good behavior he will be released in about two months.

HEADS INAUGURAL COMMITTEE

EVIDENCE INDICATES MATLOCK AND JONES NOT ONE AND SAME

COULD NOT BE IN TWO PLACES AT ONCE JONES IN OREGON LAST NOVEMBER 16

Porterville Doctor Had Curran in Hospital From June 23 to July 13

Springfield Doctor Had Jones in His Care From June 13 to July 23

Strong evidence that Joe Matlock and Ira Jones are separate individuals and that the dead desperado is Ira Jones and not Joe Matlock developed today.

Joe Matlock could not have been in two places at once. The real Joe Matlock was undoubtedly shot accidentally at Globe, near Porterville, in June, and was in Dr. Barber's Hospital there. Dr. Barber wired the Register today that Curran, the name Matlock is believed to have used, was under his care at Porterville from June 23 to July 13.

Dr. M. G. Wells of Springfield, Ore., wired the Register that Ira Jones was under his care from June 13 to July 23.

The man who is dead here could not have been in both places.

A dispatch to the Register from the Portland Journal states that Jones was in Oregon as late as Nov. 16. Before that date Curran or Matlock was at Glendale for several weeks.

Dr. S. A. Barber telegraphed: "Scar could not be mistaken for appendix scar. About the same location and size with a small bullet scar just to left of knife scar. Can identify man and scar if necessary."

If there is a bullet scar aside from the knife scar on the dead body, it was not discerned in examinations made here yesterday.

The message from Dr. M. G. Wells of Springfield, Ore., follows:

"Man answering the description of the dead man by the name of Ira L. Jones was a patient of mine from June 13 to July 23, 1912. Made his home at T. H. Wells near Vida and was there when said T. H. Wells, his friend, was drowned at the fish hatchery last summer. I knew him only as a patient and treated him for angina neurotica aedma. Was a very nervous man and from the description with postal money receipt it must be Ira D. Jones. Money order was sent me from Portland September 30, coupon number 81,899."

If both doctors are correct, there must have been an Ira Jones. The desperado had a number of postal money order receipts on him for orders issued to Ira Jones.

May Be Dodging

Local officers believe that the Eugene authorities and the Eugene relatives have taken very much the same view of things at every stage of the proceedings. Wednesday telegrams stated that the relatives "believed" there were tattoo marks on one arm. Yesterday Sheriff Brown, who used the word "believe" the day previous, was quoted in a dispatch as saying that Joe Matlock had tattoo marks on arms and chest and a scar on his chest.

Today Coroner Winbigger got the following telegram from the Portland Journal:

"If desperado dead there has not two tattoo marks and a scar on breast it isn't Joe Matlock. Please rush by wire our expense whether such marks exist."

The coroner's reply was that the man here has no tattoo marks on him, has no scar on his chest, yet has been identified positively or satisfactorily by at least six persons who knew Matlock.

Was Fine Marksman

Harry Robinson, a Santa Ana jeweler, is fully satisfied that the dead man is Joe Matlock.

"I belonged to the same militia company," said Robinson. "He was an unusually good shot. He took part in some of the championship shoots, and with a Krug or Springfield he was an expert."

"Matlock was back in Eugene last winter. That was long after he had jumped his bail. He did not hang around the streets, but he was in a poolroom there sometimes at night. I saw him then. I saw him playing pool with his sleeves rolled up and I did not see any tattoo marks on his arms. He committed the same kind of a crime the night he left there last winter, taking the girl off the street and not far from the poolroom."

Robinson saw the desperado as he was brought in, and instantly knew he had seen the man somewhere. He went home and told his father he was certain he knew the man, but could not place him until the name Matlock was mentioned in the matter. Robinson is of the same mind with E. E. McClanahan of Los Angeles, S. S. Hudson of Inglewood, Dr. L. L. Whitson and C. N. Killinbeck of Santa Ana, Rev. C. R. Moore of Anaheim and W. T. Campbell of Long Beach, all of whom are satisfied the corpse is Matlock's, though some of them will not

WAVES YIELD KEARNEY'S BODY

Lifeless Form Rescued From Currents of Sea That Had Slain Him

DEAD AVIATOR FLOATED MILE FROM ROCKY COAST

Chester Lawrence Funeral Takes Place Tomorrow at Ontario

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—The body of Horace Kearney, the aviator who hoped to pilot the ill-fated hydro-aeroplane built for him by Charles Day, on a triumphal aerial flight to San Francisco, was found yesterday afternoon on the waves about a mile from San Pete's Point, the spot on the shore where Chester Lawrence's body was found earlier in the day. The men who made the discovery were Geo. B. Harrison, a newspaper reporter, and Harry Lynch of San Pedro. These men, searching in a boat, had nicely calculated that currents would bear the body if still afloat, and their figuring proved exact.

Kearney was clad in the leather suit worn at the time he departed last Saturday from East Newport on the disastrous air voyage in which Chester Lawrence was his companion. While it probably will never be revealed just when the air craft was wrecked, it is believed by aviators and seafaring men that the hydro-aeroplane took its fatal plunge into the turbulent sea shortly after it had rounded Point Firmin, and that the aviators were afloat long enough to allow them to detach the small pontoons that later drifted ashore, possibly with the hope that the pontoons might attract attention and aid. A portion of a life preserver was insecurely buckled on Kearney's body. The body was towed into Redondo and placed beside that of Lawrence in the Cate undertaking parlors awaiting word from Kearney's mother at Kansas City, to whom word was immediately sent.

TWO RECENT DEATHS MAKE AVIATION DEATH ROLL 239

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Statistics published here today show 238 men and women killed in aviation to date. This list includes Kearney and Lawrence.

Lawrence Funeral Tomorrow

ONTARIO, Dec. 20.—The funeral of Chester Lawrence will be held Saturday afternoon at the home of his father-in-law, J. P. Robertson. Rev. Charles Wood will officiate. The service will be absolutely private. The body will be brought here tonight.

KEARNEY'S DIAMOND RING GOES TO KENTUCKY GIRL

REDONDO BEACH, Dec. 20.—The body of Aviator Kearney, which was recovered off Redondo last night, is in the morgue here awaiting instructions from his mother in Kansas City. A diamond ring he wore was taken from his hand here today and will be sent to Louise McPherson, Madisonville, Kentucky, according to the terms of a will Kearney made before starting on his final flight.

REID HONORED IN ENGLAND

Borne to Westminster Abbey in Presence of Notables of Europe and America

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Prince Arthur of Connaught, the British Cabinet, Archbishop of Canterbury, Bishop of London; the Lord Mayor and the entire diplomatic corps attended the Reid memorial at Westminster Abbey this afternoon. A choral orchestra rendered the Beethoven, Chopin and Purcell funeral marches. The Cold Stream guards escorted the body of the dead ambassador to Victoria station to be taken aboard the British cruiser Natal tonight to start to New York tomorrow.

Many other notables and three thousand American residents and tourists attended the memorial services. The casket was borne to Westminster Abbey from Dorchester House, the Reid residence, on a gun carriage. On the casket lay a wreath from the King and Queen. Mrs. Reid, Ogden Mills Reid, the son, will sail for America tomorrow on the liner Campania.

GREEK AND TURK GUNNERS ARE NOT SKILLED MARKSMEN

PARIS, Dec. 20.—Late Constantinople dispatches positively deny that Halil Pasha, vice admiral of the Turkish fleet and ex-minister of the Turkish marine were killed in the Dardanelles battle. Two shells struck the flagship, but no serious damage was done.

Dispatches state that the Sultan today received the captain of the Dardanelles squadron flagship, and presented him with the historic Turkish flag flown by the warship Mahmudley at the battle of Sebastopol in 1854.

It is reported that the Greek and Turkish admirals joked each other by wireless during Monday's battle as to the poor aim of their gunners.

GOOD PROGRESS IN BUILDING LINES

Santa Ana Doing Remarkably Well—Expect Increase With the First of the Year

Santa Ana is doing remarkably well in the building line, considering the showing made by other cities of Southern California of its class.

This morning Building Inspector Roper and Contractor N. L. Galbraith stated that they were well pleased with the outlook.

"If we get a good rain soon," said Galbraith, "I think the opening of the new year will see a big increase in building activities here. We are doing mighty well as it is."

In the last week several good residences have been commenced including a $3200 residence on South Broadway for G. F. Heil and a $2300 residence on the same street for Miss Egge.

The permit for remodeling the Rossmore has been issued to C. E. French with A. C. Black as the contractor. This step is one that has long been desired by the people of this city.

Making Campaign Banners.
The services of twelve men are required to produce one of the big campaign banners. Two men prepare the strips on which the lettering is done. Two more look after the lettering of these strips, the painting of the names of clubs or associations ordering the banners, the captions for the portraits and the offices for which the nominees are to contend. Two men work on the centerpieces, generally consisting of an eagle and shield. One man devotes himself to the special portraits, and the others assemble the various parts, sew the strips together and give the finishing touches to the banner. The "portrait man" seems to do any other work than the main portrait. The rest he calls "filling in." By working on the same faces day after day this artist becomes so skillful and so rapid in execution that he can paint the portrait of a candidate in the dark, and paint it as true to life as the standard of the campaign banner industry requires.—Harper's.

Picking Tea Leaves.
"Tea leaf picking" was a Camberwell industry in the early nineteenth century. On May 13, 1833, when two boys were charged with gambling on Sunday, one of them explained that he got the 2 shillings found upon him, "not by gambling, your worship, but by picking tea leaves." "The tea plant does not happen to grow in this country, my lad," replied the magistrate; "therefore you are adding a falsehood to the offense for which you were brought here, and that offense is always sure to lead to crimes of more magnitude."

But the boy explained: "I am employed by a cowkeeper at Camberwell, who sends me into the fields to gather sloe leaves and black and white thorn leaves, and he pays me so much a pound for all I pick." And the police traced the connection between that cowkeeper and city tea dealers.—London Opinion.

Historical Accuracy.
Perish the thought that the novelist or playwright should be tied down to historical accuracy! Lady Dorothy Neville quotes an amusing correspondence between Bulwer Lytton and her brother:

My Dear Walpole—Here I am at Bath—bored to death. I am thinking of writing a play about your great ancestor, Sir Robert. Had he not a sister Lucy, and did she not marry a Jacobite?

My brother promptly replied:

My Dear Lytton—I care little for my family and still less for Sir Robert, but I know that he never had a sister Lucy, so she could not have married a Jacobite.

However, this mattered little to Lord Lytton, for his answer ran:

My Dear Walpole—You are too late! Sir Robert had a sister Lucy, and she did marry a Jacobite.

So, in defiance of history, the play "Walpole" came to be written.

Wellington's Wrist of Steel.

The Duke of Wellington had only one vanity—his wrist was like steel. Now, when he was given the sword of state to carry it was his infinite delight that he was able to carry it upright. All his predecessors had had to slope it toward the shoulder. He would go down to posterity, he resolved, glorified by the power of his wrist. In vain Sir Thomas Lawrence pointed out that as a matter of art it would never do: that the sight of a man perennally carrying a sword from his wrist would fatigue those who looked at his picture. The duke insisted upon having his way. Lawrence did manage to smuggle in a cushion upon which the duke seems to rest his elbow, but close examination shows that arm and cushion do not meet.—London Sketch.

Liszt and His Cigars.

Liszt, the composer, is said to have abandoned the habit of smoking as a result of a misunderstanding with the Italian customs authorities. He was accustomed to smoke but one cigar a day and on a journey to Rome had one cigar for each day of his stay in the Holy City placed in his trunk. On being asked at the frontier if he had any tobacco to declare he, absentminded, shook his head. When the trunk was examined nearly a hundred cigars were found. These were confiscated and their owner fined 500 francs. As a result of this experience Liszt made a vow never to smoke again.

Rough on the Old Folk.

"Mother," remarked a girl, "I think Harry must be going to propose to me."

"Why so, my daughter?" queried the old lady, laying down her spectacles, while her face beamed like a full moon.

"Well, he asked me this evening if I wasn't tired of living with such a menagerie as you and dad."—San Francisco Chronicle.

DEEPENING WELL TO INCREASE WATER

Anaheim Gazette: Mr. Neff is preparing to lower his pumping pit from a depth of 39 to 52 feet, water having receded to that point. This is the lowest point water has reached in six years. He raises a volume of 175 inches, and with the pump lowered to the extra depth, expects 240 inches. At San Dimas the other day he saw a farmer raising water from a depth of 200 feet. Only 25 inches were being raised. At some of the east side pumping plants, pits are lowered to a depth of 100 feet.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

Santa Claus' Busy Day

Santa Claus is going to be busy in Tustin on the night of the 24th, and it's going to take a brisk person to keep up with him. All the little folks in the Presbyterian Sunday school and all the little folks in the Advent Christian Sunday school have been practicing and drilling and making preparations to entertain him at each church on Christmas Eve. Songs and speeches and many surprises have been prepared. Nobody will miss seeing him, for he is going to be at both churches the same night as well as at K. P. Hall.

Mission Society

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church held their regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon. The meeting was opened with scripture reading by Mrs. L. A. Cock, followed with prayer by Mrs. Allen. In answer to the roll call each one present responded by reading from a slip some facts relating to missionary work.

Report of secretary and reading of minutes was followed by reading of the treasurer's report.

The Home Mission topic was "Mountaineers," and the Foreign Mission topic was "Syria." Mrs. Cock was leader in both topics and was assisted by Mrs. Taylor in reading of references.

The purpose of the meeting was to study the conditions in both phases of missionary work, and it was very satisfactorily conducted.

Wedding in Tustin

On Monday evening the week in Tustin started out with a quiet home wedding. The participants were Miss Flossie Brookbank and Mr. Harry Kelsier.

The wedding occurred at 6:30 p.m. with quite a number of relatives and intimate friends present. The home was beautifully decorated with smilax, holly and Christmas bells.

Rev. E. W. Blew performed the ceremony. Refreshments of sandwiches, coffee and cake were served. Mr. and Mrs. Kelsier are now in Los Angeles for a short stay.

At Birthday Dinner

Rev. F. L. Richardson, Mrs. Richardson and family attended a birthday dinner at the home of J. W. Squires in Santa Ana the first of the week, and went to Los Angeles the latter part of the week to attend the teachers' institute.

Christmas in Los Angeles

Mr. and Mrs. John Dryer and Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Watters will go to Los Angeles to spend Christmas day with a sister of Mrs. Dryer and Mrs. Watters, Mrs. Mary Brown. All the family connections will be there to gether, nineteen in number. Mrs. Dryer will bring her little granddaughter, Alice Foster, to remain with her during the school term to attend the Tustin school.

Tustin Social Notes

The Alkali Sunday school class will have basketball grounds in the yard at the home of Miss Crittie Young, which will be a splendid place for the purpose.

Mrs. J. H. Stearns will have a family gathering on Christmas Day. She will have all the children and grandchildren to dinner.

On Christmas Eve the K. P.'s are going to have a tree and a program of music and other numbers. Santa Claus will be there and there will be a gift for everybody. The public is invited.

The Christian Endeavor choir gathered at the home of Franklin Griset last Tuesday night. After rehearsal was over the choir was highly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Griset, and the social hour was prolonged until late. They were treated to refreshments and the choir practice turned out to be a little social affair.

The worst of ills and hardest to endure
Past hope, past cure,
Is Penury, who, with her sister mate,
Disorder soon brings down the loftiest state
And makes it desolate.
This truth the sage of Sparta told,
Aristodemus old:
"Wealth makes the man." On him that's poor
Proud worth looks down and honor shuts the door.

NEW INSURGENTS

The Democratic split in Congress has come sooner than was expected. Already it is announced that the "insurgent" or progressive Democrats are organizing separately in the senate. They claim a considerable minority, though not a majority of the senate Democrats, but they hope to get the others by the bandwagon argument. They are organizing to support President Wilson's policies against the expected opposition of the majority of his own party. And they are organizing, inside the senate, for the most "insurgent" policy of all—the breaking down of the rule of seniority in the assignment of senate committee places.

That one rule would break the senate oligarchy utterly. As it is, all the most important committee places are held by the few Senators of longest service. These committees practically control the policies of the government, and this rule of precedence places them in the hands of men who represent the alignments and standards of the past. The new demand is for a representation of the present—which means that the junior members will fight for senior committee assignments.

The experience of the Republican party was that when a little group of senators separated themselves as insurgents, that was the beginning of the end of the old regime. That little group expanded into a faction and then to a party, which overshadowed, at its very first election, the old Republican party. If this group of Democratic insurgents shall prove to be the nucleus of a similar growth, there will soon be four parties in congress—which equals two.—Fresno Republican.

SIXTY-ONE MINUTES TO THE HOUR

In a little article entitled "Sixty Minutes of Salary," in the January American Magazine, William Johnston says:

"Did you ever reduce your income to hours? You make, say, $2500 a year, or fifty dollars a week. You are at your desk eight hours a day and four on Saturdays. For each of the forty-four hours you receive one dollar and thirteen cents.

"Do you earn it?"

"If you are honest with yourself you will have to admit that you do not—at least not every hour. Just for the fun of it keep tab some day. As you go out of the office at noon ask yourself what you have done in the last four hours. More than likely you were a few minutes late that morning. How much time did you spend chatting? Was it a square deal to your employer to be writing those personal letters? It will amaze you to find how much time you have frittered away. You will be glad that your employer is not looking over your shoulder. Perhaps you will even understand why he does not raise your salary.

"Watch men who are getting ahead in the world, men who are working their way up or who are in business for themselves. You'll find most of them working sixty-one minutes to the hour.

"To attain success a man doesn't have to work twenty-four hours a day. If he works eight hours of sixty minutes each he can do it. Relaxation and play and a proper amount of sleep are as essential to success as work is. It's the man who works when he works and plays when he plays who gets the most out of life.

"It is making the minutes count that makes life profitable.

"By the way, how did you spend the last sixty minutes? Let's hope it was on something worth while."

APPOINTED DENTAL SURGEON

AMERICAN LIVES IN DANGER FROM MEXICAN STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Advices here are that American lives are endangered by the strike of one thousand Mexican miners at Cananea, Sonora. General Steever, commanding the American troops on the Texas border, has been ordered to be in readiness to protect Americans at Cananea.

Mexican Regulars Guard Cananea
DOUGLAS, ARIZ., Dec. 20.—One thousand Mexican regulars are guarding Cananea, where Mexican miners employed in the Greene mines are striking. Martial law practically exists. No disturbances were reported today.

Clash at Huejuquilla
GUADALAJARA, Mex., Dec. 20.—One hundred rebels and forty rural guards and townspeople were slain in a fierce battle at Huejuquilla Wednesday. The town was sacked by the rebels. Some hours later, reinforcements of Federal troops arrived and drove the rebels out, after slaying a large number of them.

CITIZEN SHOT BY OFFICER—PROBE IS NOW DEMANDED

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—Officer W. H. Bispham, who shot and seriously wounded Leo Fitzpatrick, when the latter refused to halt last night, was suspended today pending an investigation. The officer was in plain clothes and Fitzpatrick believed him to be a highwayman. The police chief and the mayor, as a result of general protests, have promised an investigation of the shooting of citizens by officers. The mayor visited Fitzpatrick in the hospital. Fitzpatrick has declared he will sue the city.

HOUSE ADJOURNS WITHOUT HEARING TAFT'S MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The House yesterday adjourned for the Christmas holiday recess until January 2, without receiving President Taft's message. The message, however, was sent to the Senate, which remained in session.

The Senate, before the message was delivered to it, went into executive session to consider President Taft's appointments, confirmation of which had been filed up by the Democrats. The result of the session was one confirmation, that of John H. Brown, as postmaster at Concord, N. H. Then the Senate went into session as a court of impeachment to continue the trial of Judge Archbold, which was suspended until after the holidays. The defense will offer ten more witnesses and put Judge Archbold himself on the stand.

CHILD, 12, WINS PEERAGE

Little Girl Establishes Her Claim to English Baroncy of Ancient Degree

LONDON, Dec. 20.—A girl of 12 years of age has won a peerage claim before the committee of privileges of the House of Lords. She is Mary Frances Katherine Petre, daughter of Baroness Petre, the widow of the fourteenth baron. Her mother made the petition in behalf of her daughter, claiming the Baroncy of Furnivall and submitting the pedigree which started in 1283, when the first Lord of Furnivall sat in Parliament.

For the crown the attorney general argued that no Lord of Furnivall sat in parliament until a century later. The House of Lords committee, after examining the evidence, decided that a lord sat in 1295 and reported accordingly to the House of Lords.

DIAMOND MERCHANT IS FOUND DEAD IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—J. P. Logue, a diamond merchant, was found dead in his office at McVicker's Theater building in the heart of the Loop district. His head was crushed, his hands tied and he was gagged. There was no evidence of a struggle. An empty cartridge was beside the body. The safe in his room remained locked. The time of his death is unknown. It is impossible to tell whether any diamonds are stolen until experts open the safe. It is reported that Logue had hundreds of thousands of dollars in diamonds in the safe.

TAFT AT ASHLEY JUNCTION
ASHLEY JUNCTION, N. C., Dec. 20.—A special train bearing President Taft to Key West, where he boards a warship for Panama stopped here briefly. The President appeared on the rear platform and spoke.

THE LOST CHANCE
(A Hint to the Hesitant)
She stood beneath the mistletoe,
When I came in the room,
The vision set my heart aglow
And drove away my gloom.
But I—Alas!—I paused to stare,
Enraptured at the glance;
And it was then, and it was there,
I lost my only chance.

For as I stood another came,
A speedier one than I,
He held him straightway to his game,
E'en as the eagles fly;
And, oh, the kisses and the smacks,
So merry and so gay!
He took 'em singly and in stacks,
In osculate array!

A hungrier wight I never saw
In all this life of pain;
He gobbled up a thousand score,
And then began again.
And when I left at break of day—
Oh, bitter, bitter pill!
I very much regret to say
The cuss was at it still!
—Horace Dodd Gastit, in Judge.

Love One Another.
"Lola, dear," said her mother, "do you know the meaning of your Bible text, 'Love one another?'"
"Why, of course I do, mamma," she replied. "It means that I must love you and you must love me. I'm one and you are another."

One Perfect Boy.
"I never heard of but one perfect boy," said Johnny, pensively, as he sat in the corner doing penance.
"And who was that?" asked mamma.
"Papa—when he was little," was the answer. Then silence reigned for the space of five minutes.

Prohibition Facts about the CHARTER

The opponents of the charter have alleged that it is TOO EASY, under the provisions of the charter, to bring up the liquor question.

Is it? Let's see. Under the law it requires, at the present time, 171 signatures to a petition to submit the liquor question to a vote of the people at the next regular municipal election, and 342 signatures compels the submission of the question to a vote of the people at a SPECIAL ELECTION. Under the charter provision requiring 15 per cent of the REGISTERED voters it would require at the present time 765 signers to a petition to submit the liquor question to a vote of the people. Again, under our present law three of our city council can, at any time, repeal the prohibition ordinance and license saloons. Under the provisions of the charter NO LICENSE CAN EVER BE GRANTED UNTIL A MAJORITY OF THE ELECTORS VOTE FOR IT.

The sentiment of our City at present seems to be largely in favor of our present anti-saloon conditions, but what will be the conditions after the Panama Canal opens with a large influx of foreigners in our community? WHY NOT SETTLE THIS MATTER NOW, WHICH CAN BE DONE BY ADOPTING THE NEW CHARTER.

EVENING OF MUSIC

Faculty of Conservatory of Music and Others at C. A. Gustlin Home

A pleasant event taking place in the earlier part of the week was an evening's hospitality offered by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gustlin at their home, 122 East Eleventh street, in honor of the faculty of the Orange County Conservatory of Music of which Mr. Gustlin is the head.

The gay colors that are significant of the delightful and delightful Christmas-tide were in evidence, red predominating in the color scheme of house and table decoration. A five course dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock and was followed by an evening of music from the Victrola, that wonderful triumph of inventive genius that makes it possible to listen at one's own fireside to the masterly achievements of the great musical artists of the world. To the musical people gathered in the Gustlin home the evening was especially acceptable as it relieved them from the usual demand on their trained voices or skillful fingers. They took the roles of the entertained instead of entertainers.

The delightful evening was enjoyed not only by the faculty members but by a few others, close friends of the Gustlins. The guest list included Miss Lalla Page of Los Angeles, Miss Sarah Gardner, Miss Carolyn Houghton, Miss Dorothy Page, Miss Cora Siefert, Messrs. Glenn Martin, Percy Richards of Los Angeles, Ernest Phillips, Alan Revell, Osmar Dietz and Raymond Hodge of Los Angeles, Leon Griset.

Dinner Party
A charming dinner party was recently given by Dr. and Mrs. Medlock and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gustlin, at the Medlock home. The nearness of Christmas prompted the use of a holiday motif in table decorations. A centerpiece of superb poinsettias with fern draped candelabra shaded in red gave a touch of splendid coloring to the daintily spread dining table.

Covers were laid for Dr. and Mrs. Medlock, Mr. and Mrs. Gustlin, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Phillips, Dr. and Mrs. I. W. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Winbiger, Mrs. Granville Spurgeon, Mrs. Addison Cole.

Christmas Thimble Party
With Christmas bells suspended about the rooms, an artistic arrangement of holly and poinsettias with numerous plumage fern, the home of Mrs. R. E. Dickinson bore a festive air yesterday afternoon when thirty of her friends responded to her invitation to pass the afternoon with needlework.

A novel "poet" guessing game had been prepared by the hostess, the guests finding suggestions of the various poets on slips of paper contained in red bells used in decoration. Mrs. I. D. Mills, Mrs. C. F. Crose, Mrs. F. C. Rowland and Miss Lida Crookshank each solved the clue to the suggestions. The first prize, a bell-shaped box of Christmas candies, went on the cut to Mrs. Rowland. The consolation prize, which was a dainty hickory basket filled with candy, was awarded to Mrs. J. H. Rankin.

A three-course supper was served on small tables, covers being reserved for each guest by means of place cards bearing a pretty holly design.

The Amicus Club held the last of its before-Christmas meetings at the home of Mrs. Clare T. Johnson on Cypress avenue yesterday afternoon. Dainty needlework and the exchange of embroidery ideas made the time pass pleasantly.

Glowing red geraniums and greenery brightened the living room and the Christmas colors were also employed in the dining room, where delicious refreshments were served. In the center of the table Miss Kringle and her redecorated Christmas tree behind a pile of Christmas packages, each of which was attached by means of a red ribbon to one of the plates. The opening of the gifts caused much merriment among the guests. Covers were laid for Mesdames Cood Adams, Dan Adams, J. E. Liebig, Charles Carey, Nellie Young, J. F. Richards of Orange, Fargo, Harry Spencer, George Kroll and J. E. Livesey.

The members of the club have invited their husbands to join them in watching the old year out and the new year in at the home of Mrs. H. L. Bishop December 31.

The next regular meeting of the Amicus Club will be held the first Thursday in January at the home of Mrs. J. E. Livesey on South Main street with Mrs. Livesey and Mrs. Harry Spencer as hostesses.

Will Meet Tomorrow Evening
The Santa Ana Farmers' Club will meet tomorrow evening, Dec. 21, at the residence of C. W. Davies, 209 Edgewood Road. The topic for discussion will be "Should There Be Additional Qualifications for the Electoral Franchise in California?" Senator J. N. Anderson will be present and will address the meeting. All members and others are urged to be present.

Juvenile Party
Mrs. H. C. Davies was hostess Wednesday afternoon at a juvenile party given for her children, Miss Roberta and Master Truman. Invitations had been sent to possibly forty children and requires no effort of imagination to picture the merry time that would be enjoyed by such a company of light hearted children.

An atmosphere of the Christmas time had been created by the mingling of red and green in the decorations and the pretty Christmas idea was further carried out by gifts of candles in baskets and other pleasing souvenirs.

A musical hour was enjoyed by the children, the selections including numbers on violin and piano. Merry tricks were played and games of childish interest passed the afternoon.

A delicious spread was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Embree.

Miss Jennie Lind Hurt
Miss Jennie Lind, who formerly lived at Garden Grove and attended the high school in this city; but who is now living with Mrs. Helena Ciesielska and Miss Mercedes Ciesielska at 1023 South Figueroa St., Los Angeles, was painfully injured by being run into by a motorcyclist in that city several days ago. Miss Lind sustained a fractured limb and numerous bruises which will be several weeks in healing.

Happy Club Meeting
The West End Thimble Club had a most pleasant afternoon yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. L. Stevenson. The ladies were all busy on their Christmas fancy work and the pretty things being made were passed about for inspection. Conversation and the enjoyment of dainty refreshments added in making the hours pleasurable.

There was a large attendance of the members as there will not be another meeting of the club for three weeks, when the ladies will meet at the home of Mrs. Davies on Edgewood Road.

BULLET CAME NEAR GETTING JACK COMBS

Deputy Sheriff John T. Combs today discovered that a bullet fired by the bandit Monday passed through the shoulder of his coat. Combs is guard of a gang of prisoners. He went to Tomato Springs Monday with Sheriff Ruduck. He didn't know he was fired at until today when one of the prisoners said something about the hole in his coat, back of the shoulder. Combs took off his coat and found a clean bullet hole through the shoulder padding. Sheriff Ruduck believes that the same bullet that struck A. A. Prater down passed through Combs' garment. Prater was a few feet down the hill from Combs and in direct line with the deep wash where the bandit was hiding.

ALUMNI WILL MEET SCHOOL

Galaxy of Stars Gathered Together to Play the Southern Champions

A Christmas Day football game between the alumni and the high school is to be played. The alumni team will be very strong this year, as a good many of the players have been playing on college teams this fall, and others on the Orange Athletic Club team. Reeves, all-Southern quarter two years ago, and captain of the team, is a hard and heady player. Sammy Burke, the fighting little half, will be seen in action once more. As a running mate, Youngman, a Pomona star, one of the best open field runners in the South, will be home to join the alumni. At full will be Lutz of Pomona or Dill of Occidental. Walt Reeves, All-Southern end from the Pomona team, will work from end. Lantz, last year man, will take care of the other wing.

For the tackles, Brick Grouard and Laves, two players of local fame, will do the work. For the other positions McFadden and Blair of Pomona have been heard from and will try to be here. Peck, Collins, McPhee, Warren, Newcomer and Nelson are other men that are anxious to show that they can come back. Most of the high school team will be seen in the game. This will be a hard game, as most of the alumni are in training. The alumni has never defeated the high school, but are expecting different things this year.

STATE OFFICERS OF ORDER ARE PRESENT

Big Meeting Held by K. of P.
Members at Placentia—
Bells Wanted

FULLERTON, Dec. 20. — Grand Chancellor Knox of Sisson, Past Supreme Representative Crowley and Grand K. of R. and S. Schaffner of San Francisco were among the state officers of the Knights of Pythias order in attendance at the institution of lodge No. 304 at Placentia. The grand lodge officers will be in Orange county for a few days and will be guests at a banquet given by the Fullerton lodge Thursday night. Placentia is the "baby" lodge of the state. The ranks were conferred by the Fullerton team and the instituting officer was District Deputy Clinton Idler of Anaheim. One hundred persons were present at the ceremonies and banquet.

The high school students have had with the city trustees a petition asking that the city purchase an auto-chemical fire engine to augment the present system of fire protection. The Santa Fe railroad has been ordered by the trustees to place signal bells at several street crossings. Walnut groves are giving way to Valencia oranges in this section. B. F. Thomas of Pasadena, who recently purchased the Mills place, will cut down the walnut trees and set fifteen acres to oranges.

THE NOSE A FILTER TO STRAIN THE AIR

Catarrh Clogged Nostrils a Breeding Place for Deadly Germs

The nostrils are perfect "air filters", and when kept in clean, healthy state, strain every bit of air we breathe, catching all dust particles, foreign matter and germs. The air is full of germs. You cannot dodge them, but you can safeguard yourself against catarrh and other diseases contracted in the process of breathing by keeping the nostrils clean and healthy. Catarrh germs will sometimes get in their work, and you may mistake the symptoms for an ordinary cold.

Don't take any chances. If you have a stuffed up feeling in the head, or if your throat is sore or filled with phlegm, just grease the nostrils with a little Ely's Cream Balm, draw the pure, aromatic fumes back in the head, and you will be astonished at the effect. In a few minutes you will feel a loosening up in the head, the nasty discharge will soon be stopped, the soreness gone, and you will feel a sense of genuine relief.

Ely's Cream Balm not only wards off catarrh, but will quickly cure even a chronic, longstanding case of catarrh. It takes the trouble right where it starts, in the nose and throat, cleanses, heals and strengthens the raw, sore inside skin, or membrane, and in this way drives out catarrh and makes you proof against this filthy, disgusting disease. Colds, which often hang on for weeks, can be quickly cured with this cleansing, healing, antiseptic balm. All druggists sell it for fifty cents a bottle, and the one bottle is generally all that is needed to effect a complete cure. Try it today. Rowley Drug Company—Advertisement.

SPECIAL RELIGIOUS SERVICES TOMORROW

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to hear him.

Drives Off A Terror

The chief executioner of death in the winter and spring months is pneumonia. Its advance agents are colds and grip. In any attack by one of these maladies no time should be lost in taking the best medicine obtainable to drive it off. Countless thousands have found this to be Dr. King's New Discovery. "My husband believes it has kept him from having pneumonia three or four times," writes Mrs. George W. Place, Rawsonville, Vt., "and for coughs, colds and croup we have never found its equal." Guaranteed for all bronchial affections. Price 50 cts. and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists.—Advertisement.

The Post and the Sunsets.

The gorgeous grandeur of the sunsets thrills me.
The brilliant colors and the golden glow. I think sometimes it must be I'm a poet. For poets all say it affects them so. I love to watch the sinking sun's departure.
And muse and wonder why it goes away. It leaves with regularity. I've noticed. And always at the closing of the day.
It fills my soul with deep poetic feeling. To watch the daily setting of the sun. I've started several poems on the subject. But somehow I have never finished one. But none the less the daily sunsets fill me with vague poetic feeling and unrest. Another thing I've noticed about sunsets—You regularly see them in the west.

GIRL'S PURSE WAS SNATCHED

Mexican Boldly Committed
Crime on Main Street of Anaheim Last Night

Boys Who Followed Him Were Threatened With Knife and Gave up Pursuit

ANAHEIM, Dec. 20.—A Mexican purse-snatcher last night got away with a purse containing $9 belonging to a young woman employed at Yungblau's tailoring establishment. She was going home soon after dark and had reached a point on Center street just east of the postoffice when a Mexican stepped out from a doorway, seized her purse and ran.

Two boys attempted to follow the man, and did for some distance, but gave up when he turned on them and threatened them with a drawn knife.

Our Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—There is an interesting tale in the origin of the "open door policy," which Governor-elect Sulzer has announced will mark his administration at Albany. According to Sulzer the idea was originated by an old colored porter who had charge of the car in which he canvassed the Empire State prior to the election, and it is to the old negro that he gives credit for the idea.

During the strenuous campaign days it was the habit of the candidate to return to his car in the evening and, before retiring, to partake of a late supper consisting of a sandwich or so. The old negro, whose name could not be recalled, but which the governor-elect says is positively the longest of any except the title heads of Europe, was known as "Uncle" to all.

It was near the end of the campaign when the candidate returned to the car late one evening for the customary refreshment. The day had been especially strenuous. Three speeches had been delivered and another was scheduled for that night. The candidate was tired.

"Uncle," with his trained powers of observation, noticed this and remarked:

"Mister Sulzer, don't you go any worry about dat selection, 'cause yo's gwine to win jest sartainly. I've got dat premonition."

Thereupon the candidate resumed his campaign tactics, asking "Uncle" for whom he intended to cast his ballot.

"Ise gwine to vote for you, Boss. We niggers know dat de man up at Albany has done pulled his latel string inside and dey say you is gwine to put it out agin. I suspect, though dat it is going to be too high for most of us poor coons to reach."

The following day the gubernatorial candidate made use of the "open door policy" for the first time in his campaign. He has since promised to put the string out again, low enough for anyone that wishes to reach.

Red tape, around which tradition has woven so many pleasant tales, is being abolished in the Senate. Blue is the color scheme of wrapping twine, or tape, being adopted. Secretary of the Senate Bennett made no orders for red tape this year, specifying that the color should be blue in the future.

Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic national committeeman from Pennsylvania, and Representative "Jack" Beall, Texas, met in the House elevator going to lunch.

"There's no use talking," said Beall, "if it hadn't been for the Texas delegation, Governor Wilson wouldn't have been nominated at Baltimore."

"No, it was the Pennsylvania delegation which stuck by Wilson and ended in securing his nomination," Palmer retorted.

"Well, I'll tell Pennsylvania into the honor a little bit, but ours were the big states in President making," Beall admitted.

Every Southerner, particularly Georgians, Carolinians, and Floridians, know the meaning of the word "blind-tiger," but a young woman clerk at the census office has gone so far as to change it to something else. Recently the census bureau was compiling some figures on violations of different laws and came upon a case from South Carolina where a woman had been convicted for selling liquor. She was called a "blindtiger" or "blindtigger," but the young clerk took the case completely out of the files of violations and carefully placed it in the "cruelty to animals" section.

BUSINESS BLOCK TO BE REMODELED

Anaheim Gazette: Dreyfus Prothurs of San Francisco, who own the building on southwest corner of Center and Los Angeles streets, occupied by Ahlborn & Raymond, will, in the near future, remodel the building by addition of another story. They have also under consideration the removal of the building and replacing it by a handsome two-story structure. They have not yet determined upon which course to follow, but it is understood that work upon this great improvement to the city will begin in the near future.

The building is a substantial brick structure erected in the early 80's by Benjamin Dreyfus, father of the present owners.

Walter Dreyfus was recently in town from San Francisco and discussed with J. F. Ahlborn his plans of erecting a new business block upon the corner.

GOOD WELL IS FLOWING OIL

Standard Has Brought in a Good Producer on the Emery Lease

FULLERTON, Dec. 20.—The Standard Oil Company has brought in its first well in the Fullerton field. The producer is No. 2 on the Emery lease and came in with an estimated output of 1500 barrels at 3412 feet Friday night.

The Emery wells, Nos. 1 and 2, are near the Murphy Oil Company's operation in the Coyote Hills, about two miles from Fullerton. They were believed to have the best prospects of any the Standard has been drilling in the field, as the rest are reputed to be rank "wildcats."

The big company has been working on the Emery wells for over a year, and some doubts were lately entertained as to the possibilities of success. The operations have been watched with a great deal of interest by oil men, and the large production obtained will probably attract a great many new concerns to this portion of the field.

NO INDIGESTION GAS OR SOUR STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" Makes
Your Stomach Feel Fine in Five Minutes

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you truly will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Advertisement.

Catterlin, who is out on bail, will be in court this afternoon for arraignment. Newcomb traded property worth $25,000 to Catterlin for bonds of the Columbia River Orchards Co., that proved almost worthless and about two per cent of the value represented by Catterlin.

ORANGE, Dec. 20.—The right-of-way committee tomorrow will pay out $5050 in taking up options for parts of the right-of-way for the P. E. extension from Santa Ana. Yesterday an option was secured for a strip across W. T. Brown's twenty-one acre ranch. This deal has been hanging fire for some time. The payment to Brown is included in the $5050.

The committee offered Mrs. Kilty $250 for a right-of-way through her place and Mrs. Oehlke $1000. These offers were refused, and condemnation suits have been brought. Settlements have been reached for all right-of-way except those two and Dr. J. R. Medlock, who owns the walnut orchard at the turn off of Main street.

"PLEASE HELP" SAYS
CAPTAIN SOCHON

Capt. Sochon of the Salvation Army fully realizes the many calls that are made upon the public at this season, but is compelled to again appeal to their generosity to help him in carrying out the greatest desire of his heart, and that also of his beloved wife had she been by his side, in providing a supper and Christmas tree for the children, who will not have one like their more fortunate brothers and sisters who have been encouraged to attend a Sunday School. One of the workers reported to him only this week of one case, where there were six little children whose father had just started work on that day. They have not attended a Sunday school, and the Army has helped them with much needed clothes. These and many others like these who will compose the Army's guests at this festive season through the generosity of the public.

Anything to eat or to put on the Christmas tree will be thankfully received and donations will be taken either by Mr. Zimmerman of the Orange County Bank, or the Captain at the headquarters, 414 North Sycamore street.

PERU UNFRIENDLY TO ARCHEOLOGISTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Prof. Hiram Bingham, archeologist of Yale, who has been excavating in Peru at the head of the Yae Peruvian expedition, returned today from Colon. With Prof. Bingham were Herbert E. Gregory, a geologist of Yale; Dr. George F. Eaton of Peabody University, and Prof. Osgood Hardy of Yale.

After living through a succession of ravaging plagues in the interior of Southern Peru—plagues which Prof. Bingham says the government did nothing and is doing nothing to relieve—all the members of the expedition were devoutly thankful to get back to the United States. They have an lost several pounds in weight and their skins are tinged with yellow.

For seven weeks before the party left Peru, they say, they experienced intense opposition and interception by the Peruvian government and were made the subjects of insults conveyed to them through the newspapers. The

ASSOCIATED CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE MEETS AT PLACENTIA

Most Delightful Entertainment in Attractive Surrounding; Progoess Reported in Many Matters of Importance--Large Attendance--Next Meeting at Stanton

PLACENTIA! That's a name to conjure with. That's why the big P. It stands for Placencia and its several synonyms, such as Peace, Plenty, Progress, Prosperity, Persistence, Patience, Prettygirls, and perhaps other graces and virtues the name of which commences with a P. But certainly not all of Placencia's good points can be catalogued in words commencing with P. for among graces are hospitality, enterprise, wealth, culture, beautiful scenery, beautiful women, handsome men, and so on and on and on to the end of the dictionary of adjectives which describe or nouns which name either personal or community attributes of resourcefulness and attractiveness.

But this is not to be a panegyric on Placencia. Suffice it to say as Harry Hale did in welcoming the representatives of the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce to Placencia last evening—"Placencia is found!" When called upon by the presiding officer, Vice President Lew Wallace, to say a few words of greeting Mr. Hale said, among other bright and gracious things, that a year ago when it was announced that the Associated Chambers would meet at Placencia, people asked "Where is Placencia?" "That question," continued Mr. Hale, "is answered by your presence here this evening, over a hundred strong—Placencia has been found."

And along with Placencia the visitors found a beautiful banquet board, spread in the beautiful clubhouse of the Placencia Round Table Club, and presided over by beautiful women and pretty girls daintily dressed in white.

The Round Table Clubhouse is a fine, large structure, with reception hall, auditorium with stage, large fireplace, dressing rooms, kitchen, etc., all brilliantly lighted by electricity, and the furniture and fixtures and interior arrangement and finish are handsome and artistic to a marked degree.

The Round Table Club, which owns the house, and of which Mrs. C. A. Cuff is president, is composed of the ladies of the town and neighborhood, membership limited to fifty and always full, with a long waiting list. The girls of the neighborhood have a separate club but use the same clubhouse.

The dinner served last evening was as good a dinner as ever man ate, either in his own home or in that of any of his friends. The viands were delicious, cooked with perfect skill, and served hot and daintily. The menu consisted of Tangerines, sweet, juicy and fragrant, sautéed almonds, raisins, individual chicken pies—and such chicken pies!—served with peas and carrots and escalloped potatoes; pickles, Vienna rolls, olives, salad; ice cream, cake and coffee; fine cigars.

While the cigars were being passed, Vice President Lew H. Wallace of Newport Beach—who presided in the absence of President Zimmerman, of Santa Ana—called on Harry Hale of Placencia for a few words of welcome to the assembled guests. Mr. Hale spoke in a hearty, cordial vein and appreciative response was made by Horace Head of Santa Ana.

Secretary J. C. Metzgar of Santa Ana then read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved. The secretary also read several letters, one from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce announcing an excursion to Panama and inviting members of the Orange County organizations to join it. Particulars can be had from Secretary J. C. Metzgar of Santa Ana. Another letter was from Representative-elect Wm. Kettner concerning citrus tariff matters. A committee is to be appointed by the Associated Chambers to have the data in support of the tariff, which has been compiled by Manager Powell of the Southern California Fruit Exchange, printed in convenient form for mailing, and made available for all citizens, who are urged to secure copies and mail them, with personal letters, to all Senators and Congressmen with whom they may be acquainted.

A. A. Mills, of Anaheim, of the committee on railroads and transportation reported progress. He told of a hearing on express rates, before the State Railroad Commission which was attended by him and S. M. Davis of Santa Ana. He said the commission seemed favorably impressed with the complaints and charges presented by the Orange County committee, and expressed the opinion that the express companies made a mighty poor defense. He said the committee would continue its efforts and it hoped for good results.

Lew H. Wallace, reporting for the Harbor commission, said he had absolute faith in the ultimate success of efforts to secure the improvement of Newport Harbor. He told of Maj. McKinley's inspection of Newport Bay and of his subsequent statement at a public meeting that indicated that he would recommend a 700-foot-wide channel from the bay entrance to the upper lagoon.

S. M. Davis of Santa Ana reported that the special committee of which he was chairman had prepared an amendment to the present law governing the wasting of water, which if adopted by the legislature would stop the waste in this county. This amendment will be introduced in the legislature and supported vigorously.

Secretary Metzgar told of attending and assisting at the organization of the San Bernardino Associated Chambers of Commerce, which was effected on practically the same lines as that of Orange County. He said they were active and enthusiastic and expected to invite the Orange County Chamber to meet with them soon.

A resolution offered by A. A. Mills, after being amended, was adopted, endorsing and commending the State Highway Commission for surveying the route through Orange County from La Habra via Fullerton, Anaheim and Santa Ana to San Juan, and expressing confidence in Commissioner Darlington who is "under fire" from Ocean Park.

Representative-elect Weisel of Anaheim stated that Senator-elect Anderson and himself would be pleased to be advised of any legislation desired by the Chamber, and stated that any requests or suggestions along that line should be made before January 16.

The next meeting, in January, is to be held at Stanton, the accepted invitation being brought by Editor McClure of the Stanton Optimist.

Nearly every chamber in the county was well represented at the meeting, those from Santa Ana being: Gen. F. B. Case, Horace Head, J. C. Metzgar, J. C. Lamb, G. W. Minter, Jas. Sleeper, Dr. Wehrly, J. P. Bauer, Gartner, J. D. Thomas, S. M. Davis, C. E. Lamme.

BRITONS PLAN TO ERECT MONUMENT FOR WASHINGTON

LONDON, Dec. 20.—The British committee, organized for the celebration in 1914 of the centenary of Anglo-American peace, has drawn up a comprehensive program, which was made public Wednesday. It is proposed that a monument to George Washington be erected in Westminster Abbey or in Westminster Hall, adjoining the House of Commons. It is also proposed that Sulgrave Manor, Northamptonshire, be purchased and that an organized effort be made, on both sides of the Atlantic and in the British colonies, to promote well-considered educational methods and the growth of the feelings of mutual respect, affection and good will, as well as mutual knowledge among the peoples of British and American descent.

Prizes for essays on Anglo-American relations and new school readers are to be included in the educational scheme.

It is estimated that for these purposes from $250,000 to $300,000 will be necessary and subscriptions already have been received.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair

The old idea of using Sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers had dark, glossy hair at seventy-five, while our mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea," which also restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it. This objection has been overcome by the Wyeth Chemical Company of New York, who has placed on the market a superior preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp, and thin, weak, falling hair.

The beauty of the hair depends more on its rich, even shading than anything else. Don't have dry, harsh faded hair, when a simple, harmless remedy will bring back the color in a few days; and don't be tormented with dandruff, itching scalp and loose, falling hairs. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will quickly correct these troubles, and give color, strength and beauty to your hair.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and prove this to your own satisfaction. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Rowley Drug Company.—Advertisement.

New Orleans, Dec. 11, 1912.

Train No. 9 leaves the Big Four depot, corner Indiana avenue and Eleventh street, over the Illinois Central at 5 p.m., central time. A short distance from the depot the train leaves the ground track and enters the elevated. At Fifth street I observed another track above ours. This idea of running three lines of railroad on one street explains the necessity in a big city of erecting 27-story buildings. No. 9 makes only two stops in crossing the state. Cross the river at Cairo at 1 a.m. and are now in Tennessee, the birthplace of Andrew Jackson. Arrive at Memphis at 6 a.m., and two miles out from the old boat landing town of Bourbon or a bale of cotton. Mississippi's For a great many miles the railroad passes through a country poor in farming possibilities. The land is literally covered with scrub oak, with an occasional clearing where some poor "colored pusson" has made a faint attempt to grow a little corn, or a bale of cotton. Mississippi's three great staples begin with "C"—cane, coons and crocodiles. Louisiana also lays claim to the "three C's"—cane, cotton, corn. Wherever there has been a little settlement started, the negro is very much in evidence. He seems to be able to eke out some kind of an existence no matter how poor the soil.

It has been raining all day. Putting more moisture on a soil already soaked to overflowing. At one place I saw a colored "lady" hunkered down in a muddy corral milking a cow while her liege lord stood nearby carefully protecting his own precious body with an umbrella. How thoughtful!

At Grenada they have a "fair grounds" with race course, amusements, but last year's overflow being still in evidence I could plainly see no old records would be broken, or new ones made, at Grenada this year. A fellow passenger told me much of this Mississippi land is too poor to start a dog fight. It seemed to me the good Lord had put the mark of Cain on a great deal of it; and yet there must be some good land in the state, for I notice from government statistics that Mississippi's cotton crop figures well up into eight numerals.

Winona, 120 miles north of Jackson, has a population of 10,000, and is the most modern city in the state. A large cotton mill, owned and operated by northern capital, explains it all. The train runs through several hundred miles of sub-swamp lands, with small, muddy streams meandering idly along through dense thickets of scrub oak and cypress. Little clearings here and there, where short corn stalks scarcely showing above the weeds and grass, bear indisputable testimony to the unfruitfulness of the soil, and suggest many days of weary toil without recompense, and nights of sleepless worry, for grocers' bills fall due here with the same unvarying regularity they do in the real, honest-to-goodness corn belt where the yield hovers close around the hundred bushel mark.

Jackson is 183 miles from New Orleans. It has a population of 12,000, and is renowned for its cypress lumber mills. Hazenhurst is another mill town, and here I noticed a stretch of graded road and two new residences. Note—The incident is sufficiently rare to justify its record. Louisiana and Mississippi have millions of acres of virgin timber lands awaiting outside capital and energy to convert it into lumber and ties. A great deal of this timber land is owned in large tracts, much as California's domain was once owned. J. J. White of McComb, owns 60,000 acres. He operates two large mills and ships to Europe millions of feet of choice lumber annually. The largest mills in the state are located at Fernwood, and the company lays claim to 100,000 acres of timber land, more than half of which has not been touched.

Osika is a state-line town, 91 miles from New Orleans.

About 60 miles out from New Orleans we pass through a rich lowlands district given over to truck growing. It reminds me very much of Orange county's peat lands district, only this place is restricted to a much smaller area. At 4:10 we cross pass Manchota, where Lake Ponchartrain meets Lake Mariposa, and it's a beautiful scene, one not soon forgotten.

ten. The sky-tinted waters, hedged in by a dense growth of tall cane, extend as far as one can see, and then some.

We arrive at the union depot at 5 p.m., having made the run from Chicago in just 24 hours. The distance is 912 miles, and a little calculation shows we have averaged nearly 40 miles an hour, including stops. I lug my luggage over to the Monteleone hotel on Royal street, and patiently await the coming of the morning to begin explorations which shall reveal to me many of the secrets tucked away in the archives of this old historic pueblo.

Daylight Thursday morning finds me astray, and I sally forth with note book in hand ready to record the first item abroad. Like the proverbial "early bird," I'm after the unsuspecting "worm." Just off Canal street is Lafayette Square, and near the front entrance stands a life-size marble statue of John McDonogh, the man who left his millions that the coming generations of Louisiana might learn what he had been deprived of in his youth, the rudiments of a common school education. Sixteen of the schools of New Orleans have been dedicated to the memory of John McDonogh, and as many more in other cities of the state. In the center of the park, on a marble pedestal 8x10, stands a handsome bronze statue of Henry Clay, the man who had rather be "right" than be "President." This tribute to the memory of one of America's greatest statesmen was dedicated April 12, 1856, but was not unveiled until ten years later, April 12, 1866. It was originally erected on Canal street, at the intersection of Royal and St. Charles streets, and was removed to its present location in Lafayette Square in 1900. The First Presbyterian church of New Orleans, with a steeple rearing its lofty spire 300 feet heavenward, occupies the center of the block, across the street, directly north; the town hall fills a similar niche on the south, while the new U. S. postoffice, not yet complete and built of snow white marble from Egyptian quarries, adds much to the beauty and magnificence of the block bounding the square on the east. Just around the corner on Camp street is the old, historic St. Patrick's Cathedral, built in Gothic style of architecture, and of enduring granite. This is the second oldest cathedral in the South. I was founded Dec. 3, 1735. The doors being slightly ajar, I ventured in, and even the ravages of time will not erase the impression vividly pictured on my memory of the beautiful paintings and statuary festooned around the altar. The candlesticks belong to the "renaissance," and are of solid silver. A stout looking watchman stands at the door. Further explanation is unnecessary.

I visited the museum, under the watchful guidance of Mr. Justin F. Denechaud, secretary of the Louisiana State Board of Immigration, and gazed with awe and wonderment at the vast collection of relics picked up from flotsam and jetsam around these historic grounds.

An old flint-lock musket with powder horn and charger, hangs beside a short barrel cavalry carbine, each telling, in their mute way, of some gory field where the blood of a country's martyred pride flowed like water. Sometimes this wanton waste of life is due to the gratification of a whim, and sometimes vanity held sway. Justice seldom fought on both sides; neither was victory always in the right. Flags of all nations, captured on land and sea, by stratagem and bravery, grace one wall of the building. To my mind, nothing affords a more interesting study of a nation's hopes and ambition, her diplomacy and courage, than her emblems used in battle. In the corridor stands a long line of "mouth-pieces," Napoleon's brass guns of antique design, long Toms, Gatlings and mountain Howitzers, caissons removed and all dismantled, yet in such a state of preservation as to be easily classified. In a show case I saw a collection of coins, said to be the most complete outside the Smithsonian Institute. These coins might be correctly labeled "Relics of Barbarism." Going back to the "wampus" of our forefathers, whose ancestral abode was a cleft in the rocks, or a hollow tree, on down the line of "primogeniture" to the polished shell, the coon-skin circulating medium of the early settlement of Kentucky, "shin plasters" of many hues and denominations, copper dimes, with a diameter like a dinner plate, 500 slugs of the Argonauts; and, last, but by no means the least creditable to the financing genius of the present age, clearing house certificates. They were all there, telling the story of our country's progress, step by step. I was shown a bronze cast of the great Napoleon, and as I gazed upon that pictured image of the greatest warrior the world has ever known, I thought of Ullin, and of Austerlitz, of his triumphal march across the bridge of Lodi, waving the tri-color over trenches filled shoe-mouth deep with Italian blood. In imagination I saw him cheering one hundred thousand of the flower of France, urging them on to Warsaw; saw him again retracing his steps through the deep snow of the Alps, with only a corporal's guard left to tell the story of hunger and privation. All this I saw, and the retreat from Waterloo, and St. Helena, and Elba, and after all, an unmarked grave. There were only three of these casts made. One was given to the London Museum, one to the Paris art collection, and this one to the city of New Orleans. During the "raid" when Ben Butler was unjustly accused of despoiling the rich hostilities of their "spoons" and other valuable bric-a-brac, this model disappeared, and was not found until 40 years after the war closed. The story of its recovery is a profound secret, carefully guarded by two or three individuals. I hereby give you safe warning that it is useless to ask me to unlock the story, for it is not in my possession. There are many valuable paintings in the gallery, one

OLD NEWPORT, LIVELY BURG

Social Doings and Changes of Residence Keep Citizens on the Move

OLD NEWPORT, Dec. 20.—The Epworth League held a business meeting and social at the parsonage on Friday evening. Necessary items of business were speedily attended to and a very enjoyable hour was spent by the young people in conversation and games.

The Armstrong and Segerstrom young people spent the evening at the Meyers ranch. Conversation and music were enjoyed and refreshments partaken of.

Wm. J. Burtcher preached on "All things Are Ours," Sunday morning, and on "Ghosts" in the evening. Next Sunday morning he will deliver the Christmas sermon.

There was no preaching at the Church of Christ on account of the illness of Mr. A. Gerrard of Long Beach, who was to be here. Next Sunday E. B. Funkhauser of Long Beach will preach both morning and evening at the schoolhouse.

A surprise was given to Albert Manderscheid by the young people. The evening was very pleasantly spent in games and conversation. Refreshments were served. About fifteen of the young crowd were present.

The program for the "watch night" service at the church on New Year's Eve will be published next week.

Quite a change in residences took place in this community in the past few weeks. W. S. Baab and family are now nicely located in the Art Johnson house; Ed Farnsworth and family are established in the big Clark house; Mr. J. C. Glaze has gone to a ranch near Los Angeles; Mr. Thompson has gone from the ranch just south of the Plat place; Frank Bradbury has taken his family to his ranch west of the Clark place; and Mr. Chandler, who is working the north part of the A. T. Armstrong ranch for Mr. Blee, has moved his family into the house on the west part of that section.

Let everyone remember the Christmas program and tree on next Tuesday evening at the schoolhouse, at 7:30 promptly. A play given by some of the young married people and others of the neighborhood, will be given on the same evening. Let everyone bear this in mind.

Miss Eva Hunton, of Orange, spent Saturday and Sunday with her cousin, Miss Jewell Hunton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlin were in Long Beach Thursday and Friday.

Miles Von Schiltz and family have moved to Los Angeles.

Perry Neeley is down from Angeles on a business trip.

Ed Farnsworth has gone to Lodi on a business trip of a few days.

The Harlin and Hunton families went to Los Angeles last Tuesday evening.

Those who have lately acquired automobiles in this locality are D. A. Bear and Wm. J. Burtcher.

GLASS IS PECULIAR.

It Has a Number of Curious and Contradictory Qualities.

Glass is one of the most interesting as well as one of the most peculiar things in the world. It has curious and contradictory qualities, and many astonishing phenomena are connected with it. Brittle and breakable as it is, yet it exceeds almost all other bodies in elasticity.

If two glass balls are made to strike each other at a given force the recoil, by virtue of their elasticity, will be nearly equal to their original impetus. Connected with its brittleness are some very singular facts.

Take a hollow sphere with a hole and stop the hole with the finger, so as to prevent the external and internal air from communicating, and the sphere will fly to pieces by the mere heat of the hand. Vessels made of glass that have been suddenly cooled possess the curious property of being able to resist hard blows given to them from without, but will be instantly shattered by a small particle of flint dropped into their cavities. This property seems to depend upon the comparative thickness of the bottom; the thicker the bottom is the more certainty of breakage by this experiment. Some of these vessels, it is stated, have resisted the stroke of a mallet given with sufficient force to drive a nail into wood, and heavy bodies, such as iron, bits of wood, Jasper, stone, etc., have been cast into them from a height of two or three feet without any effect, yet a fragment of flint not larger than a pea dropped from a height of three inches has made them fly.

ELIZA WAS GENEROUS.

Her Munificent Offer For an Original Five Act Tragedy.

People are likely to look back com-miseratingly upon the past in these days of modern progress. When we hear what the most prolific of present day novelists receives a word and what the weekly royalties of any well known playwrights are we say that the literary profession has come into its own. Some hark back to the contrasting tale—that Milton received only £5 for the first copyright of "Paradise Lost," an epic in twelve books containing a total of 10,565 lines, but that was over two centuries ago. Poe received $10 for "The Raven." That may be dismissed with the statement that poetry never paid.

The modern way of making money by literature is even more recent than is generally thought. Alexander Hill of Cincinnati, one of the best known bookmen and collectors of the middle west, has a letter in his collection of autographs that proves this point.

Two generations ago Eliza Logan was a leading actress in America. Read her letter, O budding genius on the typewriter, and be glad that when you are paid it is space rates for the local paper:

Tremont House, Boston, May 17, 1854.
 E. Dussault, Jr., Charlestown, Mass.
 Sir—I wish an original five act tragedy—the feature to be a heroine, myself the protagonist of it; the scene not to be laid in this country; the plot to be optional with the author—for which, if I like it, I will pay $5. Respectfully,
 ELIZA LOGAN.

American Leaf Colors.

It has been observed that the leaves of American trees, such as maples, scarlet oaks and so forth, which at home exhibit splendid colors in the autumn, fall below their reputation in this regard when transplanted in England or on the continent of Europe. An English observer, who has been studying the causes of the autumn tints of trees, thinks the superiority of our woodlands arises from the soft and mild yet glowing climatic conditions prevailing here in the fall. England, it is added, is rarely blessed with an Indian summer. When the climatic conditions permit the leaves to retain considerable vitality in the autumn the colored pigment is normally developed; hence the glorious forests of the United States.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Regulating Price of Books.

The price of books was once a matter for legislation in England. An act of 1534, which seems never to have been repealed, provides that any complaint regarding the price of books should be considered by "the lord chamberlain, the lord treasurer and the justices or any two of these," and that those dignitaries should have "power and authority to reform and redress the enhancing of the prices of printed books and to limit the prices of the books and the offenders should lose and forfeit for every book by them sold whereof the price be enhanced the sum of 8s. 6d."—London Mail.

She Didn't Do It.

The family far waxed fierce. "You talk about my being to blame for our marrying!" shrilly exclaimed Mrs. Vick-Senn. "John Henry, did I hent you out and then make love to you?" "No," he snorted. "But you could have given me the glassy eye and sent me about my business, and you didn't do it, madam—you didn't do it!"—Chicago Tribune.

Capital Punishment.

"Mamma, did you love to flirt when you were young?" "I am afraid I did, dear." "And were you ever punished for it, mamma?" "Cruelly, dear. I married your father."—Paris Rire.

The hours we pass with happy prospects in view are more pleasing than those crowned with fruition.—Goldsmith.

Strong Endorsement of The "Commission Form"

A citizen of Santa Ana has received the following letter which cannot fail to be of interest in connection with our charter campaign. The writer is secretary of the Wynn & Sheldon Company, dealers in vehicles and farm implements at North Yakima, Washington.

North Yakima, Wash., Dec. 14, 1912.

Mr. _____, Santa Ana, Calif.

Dear Sir: You may remember meeting me at my sister's home, 632 Catalina street, Los Angeles, about a year ago.

I notice by reading the Santa Ana Bulletin that you are struggling with the commission form of government question.

As we adopted that form some 15 months ago, and as it has been so satisfactory here I am sending you a copy of our laws and one of our monthly reports.

North Yakima has about 14,000 people, so that conditions would be similar. Prior to this form of government we were served by 5 councilmen and a mayor, all without pay. Conditions then and now are about the same as if you asked six men to look after your business affairs without pay, which would result in none of them feeling personally responsible, nor inclined to devote much time to the work. While if you employed three good men at a fair salary, giving each his department and holding him responsible for same, with a recall privilege behind him to stimulate, you could expect and would get good results. Under the old form the council would enter into unprofitable contracts, and would audit bills in a hasty manner, and in cases that I have known of where they had no knowledge of what the bill was for. Our present system is vastly better, and if your city government is at present conducted under about the same laws as ours formerly were, there is absolutely no question but what you will get much better results.

from a commission form. But I would emphasize the fact that in order to get such results you must elect proper persons to such offices. If such is done you will find that your city affairs will be run much more economically and efficiently.

I notice that Los Angeles turned down the commission form, and quite likely that will have considerable influence upon your election.

I think possibly the commission form is more advantageous to a smaller city, where the commissioners can have individual supervision, than in a large city.

Yours truly,
E. K. SHELDON.

Could Shout For Joy

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice, and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters have no superior. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50 cents at all druggists.—Advertisement.
